MARION HEARD FROM.

Mr. Dykes bill making it a misdemeanor for any person to throw dead animals on the street on their premises or on the premises of another was then taken up. The bill requires dead bodies of animals to be either burned or buried. The bill also makes it unlawful to throw such bodies in any creek or river. The punishment is fixed at not less than $10 nor more than $20, one-half to go to the informer, and the other half to the county school fund. The bill passed.

The above is from the proceedings of last Thursday. It is a measure which has been greatly needed in this State. Mr. Dykes has our thanks for his interest in the matter. Now, Mr. Dykes, go for them on local option for towns that wish to be incorporated.

WHILE we admire the enterprise and improvement of the Nashville American, we think they make a mistake when they say the rejection of the local option bill is the proper treatment. There are many towns that ought to be incorporated and would be but for the inevitable saloon which follows, and people should have a right to say whether they want a saloon or not. We are not prohibitionists by any means until it includes the manufacture as well as sale, and we hope there are sensible men enough in the legislature willing to give people a chance to manage their own affairs.

WE note with pleasure the new form of illustrated Supplement of the Sunday Courier-Journal. We have often wished during the past year that their Art Supplement had been in a more convenient form for preservation. The many beautiful things published we desire to keep, the size made it cumbersome and hard to protect.

THE Journal tried mighty hard to use the words "verbatim et liberatim" in its last issue, but despite our protests the type brought it out verbatim et liberatim—whatever that means. Perhaps Mike Butler could translate that.—Memphis Journal.

Try again, you have n't got it right yet.

For supreme stupidity the measure looking to the shutting out of new corporations in this State lately introduced in both houses of the Legislature seem to us to take the cake. Tax, tax, tax, nothing but taxes. No wonder people prefer to go into other States when Tennessee wants money and enterprise so bad. In every legislature it seems to us that the interests of the eastern and western portions of the State are so antagonistic that the argument for the division of the State is continually being strengthened.

From Texas.

Aledo, Texas, Jan. 29, 1897.

Mr Thomas H. Hill

Dear friend:—I see my time is out for the News. I want the News and Twice-a-Week Courier Journal. * * * I have but little news. We are all well and well pleased with Texas. I have a farm of 170 acres as fine land as can be, 100 acres acres in cultivation and 70 acres in grass. This is fine for wheat, oats, corn and cotton and very fine for stock of all kinds. My land is the black-wax prairie. My wheat looks very fine at present. I have my land all broke ready for the planting time. I will sow oats the 1st of February, plant corn the last of February and cotton the 10th of March. We have had some cold weather for the last 3 or four days and a right smart of ice. I would like to go back and see all my old friends to see what they are doing but I can't say now when I will come. I have wrote to some of them but can't hear from them. Hoping you will receive the money for the papers. I remain as ever,

Your friend,

J. R. OWEN.

Tacky Party.

Miss Kittie Brown and associates gave a tacky party at Mrs. C. H. Davidson's last Wednesday night which was well attended. The prizes were bestowed on Miss Lula Laster and Mr. James Thornton, two apples. Other conspicuous personages were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham, H. S. Pryor, Elbert Rollins, Miss Sarah Ables and Miss Pryor. There were games of every description and all together it was a very enjoyable affair. The party dispersed at a late hour, and "Mrs. Smith" and her children and grandchildren went home to dream of the Tar-Heel State.

Died.

We regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Mary Pryor, wife of Mr. W. H. Pryor, ex-Register, which occurred at her home near Jasper Wednesday, Feb. 3, and was buried at Rosewood cemetery Thursday.
